ACPET welcomes COPHE CEO appointment

The Australian Council for Private Education and Training (ACPET) today welcomed the appointment of Simon Finn as chief executive officer of the Council of Private Higher Education (COPHE).

ACPET CEO Rod Camm said the private higher education sector would be well served by Mr Finn's skills and experience in policy, advocacy and management.

"On behalf of ACPET, I'd like to congratulate Simon on his appointment and we look forward to working closely with him through a further period of transition and change in the industry," he said.

Mr Camm also thanked outgoing CEO Adrian McComb for his substantial contribution to the industry.

"As co-founder of COPHE and CEO, Adrian has been extremely effective in championing private higher education in Australia and we are very pleased we will have the benefit of his experience for a little while yet in a part time advisory role," he said.
